

In recognition of the importance and impact of early brain development on the future of all children, Tutor Time Arizona has recently entered into a cutting edge training partnership agreement with New Directions that will include training more than 1000 Arizona childcare employees over the next 12 months.

"We are making a significant investment of time and money to ensure that our staff understands and can communicate with each other and with parents about the importance of brain development," said Rick Sodja, CEO of PDG America and owner of Tutor Times in Arizona. "Tutor Time centers create a learning atmosphere ideal for early childhood education," added Sodja. "Our partnership with New Directions Institute enhances our learning atmosphere and ensures that our teachers will be the most informed and well-trained child care providers in the state."
